Please comment on any aspects, positive or negative, of your teaching assistant's (TA's) teaching, attitudes to students, class atmosphere, or any other matters affecting the quality of instruction that you consider worthy of note.

Comments
Excellent TA. He is very clear to explain difficult concepts.
Willian is brilliant. He is an excellent TA.
William Duan is a fantastic TA. He has excellent command over the course material, but even more importantly, he is able to communicate concepts in a way that makes them easy to understand. William's skills as a TA do not end with his subject mastery, but extend to the time he puts in to being a good teaching assistant and the energy he brings to his teaching duties. William is always available for students during office hours, but often also beyond that –– when office hours extend from 1 to 2, sometimes 2.5 hours, or when they are not enough and you send him an email to meet 1 on 1 for more specific questions and concerns. In summary, William's contribution to my understanding and learning outcomes from this course has been immense, and I am very grateful to have had him as a TA.
William is fantastic! I will miss him!
William is an excellent TA for both PhD level micro courses. He is generous with his time, he communicates clearly and is quite knowledgeable of the subject. It has been a genuine pleasure to attend his tutorials and office hours.
William is a great TA. He devotes a lot of time to this course. He is always available when we have doubts.
He is very approachable and genuinely cares about the students learning the material. Clearly enjoys his subject and gives lots of examples, encouraging class interest in the topic at hand
As always, William was great!
William always led lively and interesting tutorials. And he is patient and nice to answer questions even after the scheduled office hours and tutorials. His understanding to microeconomic theories is very solid and comprehensive.

Please comment on any aspects, positive or negative, of the format and content of the course as they may have affected the teaching assistant's performance.

Comments
Good willing to held office hours even for more time than the expected.

Explanatory Note

Percent Favourable Rating

This is the percentage of respondents who rated the instructor a 4 or 5 (Agree or Strongly Agree).

Interpolated Median

The data collected for Student Experience of Instruction (SEI) are ordinal in nature, with a natural order (from 1 to 5). While the mean may be used as a measure of central tendency for such data, it is not an appropriate or accurate representation of SEI data (cf. Stark & Freishtat, 2014). The usual measure of central tendency for ordinal data is the median. As a result, we have been reporting the mean and the median for the last several years. After considerable thought and data modeling, we now believe that the interpolated median is the best representation of the data, since it takes the frequency distribution into account.

Consider the following example from 2015W, the two course sections have identical mean (3.8). However, the instructor in section 2 received 77% favourable (4-5) ratings, compared to 53% for the instructor in section 1. The Interpolated median values of (3.7 and 4.2), much better reflects the distribution of the scores above and below their respective median. Furthermore, the interpolated median is better correlated with percent favourable rating; such that an interpolated median of 3.5 on a Likert scale of 1 to 5, corresponds to 50% favourable rating.

Frequency Distribution

Response for University Module Item	Section 1	Section 2
5 = Strongly agree	5	5
4 = Agree	3	5
3 = Neither agree nor disagree	6	0
2 = Disagree	1	2
1 = Strongly disagree	0	1
Mean	3.8	3.8
Median	4.0	4.0

Interpolated Median	3.7	4.2
Percent favourable rating	53%	77%

Dispersion Index

The dispersion index is a measure of variability suitable for ordinal data (Rampichini, Grilli & Petrucci 2004). This dispersion index has values between zero and 1. A zero dispersion index indicates that all respondents in the section rated their experience of instruction the same. An index value of 1.0 is obtained when the respondents are split evenly between the two extreme values (Strongly Disagree & Strongly Agree), a very rare occurrence. In SEI data at UBC, the index rarely exceeds 0.85, and mostly for surveys not meeting the minimum recommended response rate.
